Hello,

We are pleased to share with you a copy of our report “An Immigration System for Canada's Future”. The report outlines what we heard from recent engagements, where we are headed, and how we plan to get there.

Over the course of our engagement, we heard from more than 17,500 voices, including over 2,000 unique organizations and over 2,100 current or former clients through the cross-Canada dialogues, focused discussions, and the public survey, which had over 16, 000 responses.

As someone who has taken part in the conversation on how immigration can best support Canada's current and future needs, we would like to extend our sincere thank you for your time, insights and ideas. Your engagement has helped to make it a rich and thought-provoking process.

We look forward to keeping you apprised of the steps the Government of Canada will be taking to continue to build an immigration system for Canada's future.

With sincere thanks,

IRCC
