CAPIC congratulates new Minister of Immigration Marco Mendicino

The Canadian Association of Professional Immigration Consultants (CAPIC) is pleased to welcome Marco Mendicino as the new Minister of Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship. We congratulate the Minister and wish him success in his new portfolio.

“We look forward to working with the new Minister on immigration program development,” says Dory Jade, CAPIC CEO.

CAPIC believes immigration is very important to Canada and we are happy to work with the Minister on this question of national importance. We look forward to providing timely, relevant and informative consultation to the Minister.

“We are happy to welcome the Minister and look forward to working with him on Canada’s strategic immigration projects to effectively position Canada as an attractive immigration destination and advocating for the interests of immigration consultants,” says Lulwa Al-Hidiq, Chair of CAPIC’s Board of Directors.

For reference, CAPIC is the largest and only existing non-profit association for Canadian immigration consultants. CAPIC continues to grow and evolve as a direct response to dynamic changes within the immigration consulting industry. We lead, connect, protect and develop the immigration consultant profession, serving the best interests of our members and ensuring consumer protection for the users of our members’ services.
